Hello Everyone!

November opens with a gift: an extra hour of sleep! Clocks fall back on Sunday, November 1. If you still have wall clocks, set them back before bed. And if it's the clock on your stove or in your car, don't fight it. It will be right again in March.

All Saints Sunday: November 1

That same Sunday, we gather for All Saints Sunday, a time to remember those we have lost in the past year and to hold on to the power and light of the resurrection. Paul reminds us, "If we have been united with [Jesus] in a death like his, we will certainly be united with him in a resurrection like his" (Romans 6:5).

We will also remember those who were baptized this past year. Their baptisms remind us that from the very beginning of our lives, we are clothed in Christ.

Together we will sing of "all the saints, who from their labors rest," and we will light a candle for each loved one we have lost and for each person newly baptized, giving thanks for the lives they have lived and the new lives they have begun.

Light in the Dark

God made both the dark and the light. As the days grow shorter and the evenings come early, November invites us to notice the ways God's light still shines: in the gifts we bring and the kindness we share with one another.

When the daylight seems to fade, look up. Even the night sky is full of light, and the light always overcomes the darkness.

Thank you, dear church, for being that light, today and every day.

- Pastor Candy
